

Hands-Free Door Opener

sodexo | ROTH

Key Benefits:

Harmful germs can remain on many surfaces for hours, as stated by The CDC. Protect your employees and guests by minimizing the spread of germs with our stainless-steel, hands-free foot door opener manufactured in our metal fabrication shop. Built to promote optimal hygiene standards in high traffic commercial or industrial facilities, this product allows you to easily open doors without having to use your hands. Featuring a convenient angled design, this product enables you to utilize your foot as leverage when opening a bathroom door, or other common doors. Its quick-slip release guards against injury.
